SWISS SLEEP

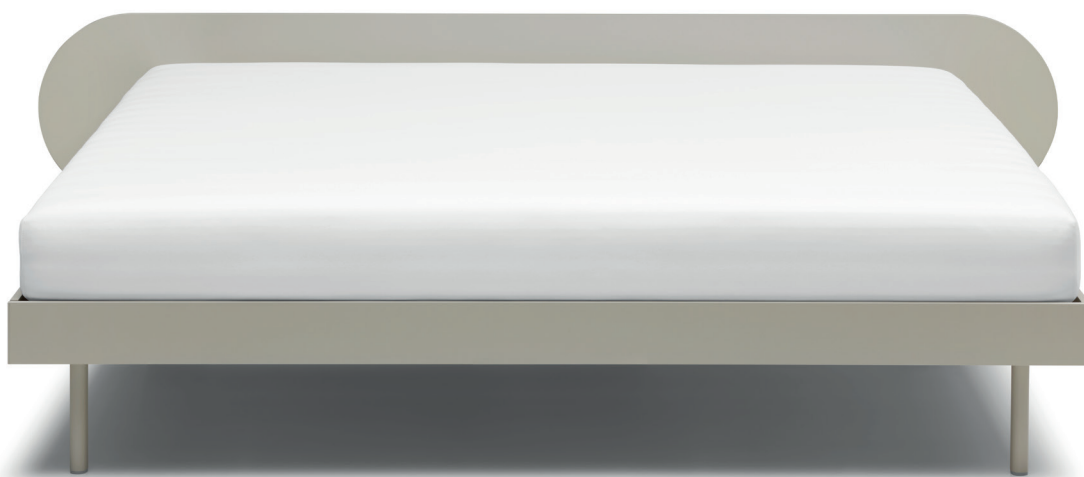

A BED. WITH INTEGRATED FLEX.

FlexBed Aluma

from riposa.

As much as necessary, as little as possible: the FlexBed Aluma by riposa is a declaration of love to simplicity and embodies the new, contemporary sleep culture. Its core – the riposa Flex – has been one of the riposa classics for over twenty years. In keeping with the spirit of the times, the slatted base in the FlexBed Aluma has become a smart aluminium bed frame – combining full ergonomic sleep comfort with an incomparably lightweight bed construction.

Designed by Jörg Boner

Jörg Boner has been designing products, rooms and furniture in his design studio in Zurich since 2001. Jörg Boner was a lecturer at ECAL Lausanne between 2003 and 2013 and has received numerous awards, including the Swiss Grand Prix Design (2011). His work combines beauty and elegance with functionality and innovative manufacturing.

The core

The integrated riposa Flex at the heart of the FlexBed makes the Aluma a little ergonomic wonder. The lightweight slatted base made of high-quality aluminium ensures that the sleep system can be precisely adapted to a wide range of lying needs. For even more lying comfort, the FlexBed is optionally available with an adjustable headrest.

Half Bed, half Flex? All Bed, all Flex!

With the FlexBed Aluma, the riposa Flex becomes a smart and fully-fledged bed frame. The Swiss HighTech aluminium construction gives the FlexBed incomparably lightweight proportions and makes it easy to handle.

Header

The header of the FlexBed Aluma protects you gently while you sleep and gives you a feeling of security. The sporty, low head element is available either in a round, organic shape or in the Square-wood design (ash veneer).

FlexBed Aluma with organic header: two characters, one bed

In the «Sand» version, the FlexBed appears warm and reduced. It fits ideally into the bedroom. In the colourful «Sneaker» design, on the other hand, it looks self-confident and places itself centre stage.

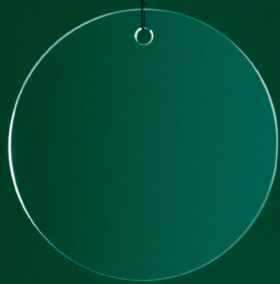

«The FlexBed Aluma stands out for its simplicity. Its design approach focuses on the essentials – nothing more, nothing less.»

Technical data & finished size

Material

BED FRAME

The Swiss HighTech aluminium construction with a matt finish (powder coating) forms the basis for the FlexBed Aluma.

HEADER

For an individual bed composition, the sporty, low head element is available in two designs. The organic header is made of stable MDF, while the Squarewood header is finished with a real wood ash veneer.

SLEEP SURFACE AND ERGONOMIC PRINCIPLE

The Flex sleep surface consists of multi-layered beech-wood spring slats pre-stressed for long-lasting flexibility, embedded in fatigue-resistant riposa double spring joints. The self-regulating Shoulder-Balance-System SBS in the shoulder zone and the individually adjustable, fibreglass-reinforced lumbar zone ensure precise, ergonomic adjustment.
